

80,000 MARCH IN HOLY NAME FETE

PARADERS UNDISMAYED BY THE DOWNPOUR OF RAIN

100,000 WATCH CATHOLICS IN JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Record Demonstration Given as Welcome to Archbishop E. J. Hanna—All Central California Organizations Joined Remarkable Pageant.

San Francisco.—Despite a drenching rain, which fell fitfully all afternoon, 80,000 men and boys of the Holy Name society of the Catholic church marched up Market street Sunday, in one of the largest religious demonstrations ever seen in San Francisco.

The parade started at Embarcadero at 1:30 and it was after 4 o'clock when the last marchers reached the civic center.

All of the Catholic parishes of San Francisco were represented and delegations were present in large numbers from all the bay region, the Catholic schools, orders, institutions and clubs.

Archbishop Hanna, who was warmly greeted Saturday night when he arrived home from his alimna visit to the pope at Rome, occupied the place of honor in the parade and gave the benediction of the blessed sacrament at an altar at civic center.

The demonstration was in commemoration of the Six Hundred and Fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Holy Name society on St. Francis day. A feature of the parade was the floats which depicted the stirring historical events of the society and the church.

Market street was decorated with banners of gold and white, the papal colors, and all the marchers carried pennants and wore bronze badges emblematic of the occasion.

Two thousand school girls of the Holy Name choir sang.

Dr. J. Franklin Smith, archdiocesan president of the society, in his address as presiding officer, declared the marching throngs were living evidence of the ideals of Christianity which have been proclaimed by the society through the centuries of its existence.

Former Governor Edward F. Dunne of Illinois, the speaker of the day, praised the triple celebration—the founding of the society, the natal day of St. Francis and the return of Archbishop Hanna—and paid tribute to the work of the society in the promotion of clean speech and living up to the ideals of American citizenship.

Archbishop Hanna told how glad he was to be home again.

In the reviewing stand with the archbishop were Rev. William P. Sullivan, archdiocesan spiritual director of the Holy Name society; Mons. P.
L. Ryan, Mons. James A. Cantwell, Former Gov. E. F. Dunne, Dr. Smith, Mayor Rolph, Capt. C. W. Cole, U. S.
N., and representatives of the army, marine corps, Knights of Columbus and other organizations.

SAN MATEO AND SAN FRANCISCO COUNTIES MAY CONSOLIDATE

San Mateo.—Mayor Frederick J.
Smith of San Mateo, and Daniel C.
Imboden, manager of the Three-Cities chamber of commerce, have announced their intention to appoint a committee of representative citizens of San Mateo county to study the subject of consolidation of San Mateo county with San Francisco county, and recommend action. Mayor Smith will invite the different chambers of commerce in San Mateo county to name committeemen, who will make a study of three plans of amalgamation—annexation to San Francisco; the borough form of government, and the metropolitan area plan.

Anyone of the three plans can be carried through under the statutes of the state.

MINING MEN OPPOSED TO CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Sacramento.—Declaring that the constitutional amendment recently passed by congress to prohibit exploitation of child labor in this country is "un-American," the American Mining congress, in the final business session of its annual national convention, adopted a resolution opposing ratification of the child labor measure by the state legislature, to which it has been referred.

Opposition to the amendment, designed to protect and regulate the labor of boys and girls under the age of eighteen, is solely based, according to their resolution, on the claim that this amendment is "an invasion of the rights of the states in dealing with their particular problems."

BENEFICIAL RAINS OVER WIDE AREA

DROUTH BROKEN, FOREST FIRES BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL

RAINFALL GENERAL FROM OREGON LINE TO KERN

Seasonable Rains Expected to Become General—Fall Particularly Heavy in Sacramento Vicinity—Santa Barbara Has Showers.

Sacramento.—Sweeping over vast areas, putting out forest fires and cooling parched farms, the first heavy rain of the season visited sections of California Sunday, bringing to a close one of the most extended droughts in the state's history.

Starting early in the morning, a downpour of rain literally drenched northern California. Although the rainfall was comparatively light in the southern part of the state, reports are that it was sufficient to relieve the situation. Weather forecasts indicate additional precipitation.

As the parched undergrowth and tree foliage became drenched, forest fires which had been raging for weeks began dying down.

The fall of rain was particularly heavy in the vicinity of Sacramento and throughout the bay region. Cattle men and farmers are joyful. Little damage to unharvested crops in central and northern California will result from the rains, according to officials of the state department of agriculture at Sacramento. Most of the raisin crop was in the stack and comparatively safe from damage when the storms broke. Farms throughout the San Joaquin valley are declared to have been benefited immeasurably by the rains.

From points as far south as Santa Barbara came reports of rains.

In its northward course the rainstorm broadened until it reached Salinas, where it rained hard for three hours, while San Luis Obispo was visited by a brisk rain.

San Joaquin county and the foothills adjoining were visited by the heaviest precipitation in several years according to reports from Stockton, ending the longest drought on record in this district.

Approximately two inches of rain had fallen at Sacramento by 6 o'clock Sunday night, ending a long drought.
The unharvested rice and bean crops throughout the district did not suffer, it was reported. The precipitation was general from Red Bluff to Stockton.

Six hours of steady rain was reported to have done inestimable good at Santa Rosa, while at Napa a forest fire which had been burning steadily and threatening numerous ranches, was practically extinguished. More than half an inch fell in these districts, with no damage to unharvested crops.

Rejuvenation of dairy ranches with no adverse results on the fruit crops resulted from the rain in Marin county, while many brush fires were extinguished in wide districts adjoining Redding and Yreka. Further rain in northern California was forecast by the weather bureau. No change in temperature was anticipated.

Northern California and the Sierra mountains were visited by light rains and snow above the 7,000-foot level, according to Pacific Gas and Electric company workers.

TOKYO MASS MEETING URGES INTERVENTION IN CHINA

Tokyo.—Five thousand persons, including members of the house of peers and representatives, attended a meeting in Shiba park, adopted resolutions urging the Japanese government to interfere in the civil war in China as an ally of General Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian leader, who is carrying on hostilities against the Peking armies for the control of the central government of China. "The Japanese government must carry out a policy in China independently of other powers," the resolution read.
"This is made necessary owing to Japan's special position in China." Major-General Sato, retired, addressing the meeting, said: "Japanese troops should be sent to China before Peking troops enter Manchuria," where General Chang Tso-lin rules.

Caverly Defends Verdict

Chicago.—Conscience—and conscience alone—dictated the verdict of a life sentence for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, youthful millionaire slayers of Robert Franks. From his bed in Mercy hospital, Judge John R. Caverly, who rendered the verdict in the famous case, for the first time revealed why he had not imposed the death sentence which popular fancy seemed to demand.

in the future, in connection with the new hotel, will be of similar type.

For some months the Santa Paula creases in production for several years. The new packing house, constructed at a cost of approximately $350,000, has the most up-to-date equipment for the handling of lemons.

P T A BEGINS PROMISING SEASON

The first regular meeting of the Campbell P. T. A., held on Tuesday afternoon, proved to be a very interesting one.

The singing of the P. T. A. A. song was an innovation and a very successful one, under the able leadership of Mrs. Keesling and Miss Wilson.

The movie program for Friday is as follows:—

The Romance of California.

Grandma's Boy.

Winter in the Yosemite.

The life of Benjamin Franklin.

The show begins at 7:30 p. m. and prices of admission are adults, 25c, children 10c. The same program will be shown in the afternoon, free of charge to the school children, but evenin gprices will prevail for adults.

The following committee was appointed to select films for the next show. Miss Mace, Mr. Abbott, Mrs. Rego and Mrs. Lanphear.

Miss Collis' room was awarded the prize for the largest percentage of mothers attending the meeting. Plans for the Father's Night to be held early in Novem-

California's Mineral Wealth

Final compilation of the returns from the mineral producers of California for 1923 by the statistical division of the state mining bureau, shows the total value for the year to have been $244,024,878, an increase of $98,840,852 over the 1922 total.
There were fifty-four different mineral substances, exclusive of a segregation of the various stones grouped under gems, and all but one of the fifty-eight counties of the state contributed to the list.

The salient features of 1923, compared with the preceding year, are, the continued increase in petroleum yield, although of lower prices per barrel; increase in cement, copper, lead, natural gas, brick and tile, and crushed rock, and decreases in gold and silver values. The net result was an increase in the grand total of all groups of nearly one hundred million dollars. Petroleum accounted for an increase of $69,350,044 in total value, accompanying an increase in quantity of over 124,000,000 barrels.

Of the metals, copper increased from 22,888,987 pounds, worth $3,- 090,582, to 28,346,860 pounds, worth $4,166,989, lead, from 6,511,280 pounds and $368,120 to 9,934,522 pounds and $695,416; quicksilver from 3,466 flasks and $191,851 to 5,468 flasks and $334,851. Gold decreased from $14,- 760,346 to $13,379,013, in spite of which, as in 1922, California continued to account for approximately 30 per cent of the gold output of the United States.

Of the structural group, cement advanced from 8,962,135 barrels, valued at $16,524,056, to 10,825,405 barrels and $25,999,203; miscellaneous stone (comprising crushed rock, sand and gravel, paving blocks, and grinding-mill pebbles) from a total valuation of $10,377,783 to $15,395,652; brick and hollow building blocks or tile from $7,994,991 to $9,738,082; mag-nesite from 55,637 tons and $594,665 to 73,963 tons and $946,643, with granite and lime also registering gains.

In the industrial group there were a number of fluctuations, the more important increases being shown by diatomaceous earth, limestone, mineral water, pottery, clay, gypsum and talc. One new item, sulphur, was added in 1923 to this list, which has not been produced commercially in California for many years. In the saline group, all items increased, but particularly borates, salt and potash, the gain for the group amounting to a total of $1,479,570 more than the previous year's figures.

A class composed entirely of boys has enrolled for cooking lessons at the Porterville union high school.
Cafe and quick lurch counter cooking are the specialties stressed, and the lads are being taught both the theory and practical side of such work.

Stanford football prospects received a severe setback when in the first half of the game with the U. S. S.
Nevada Ernie Nevers, stellar fullback, received a badly wrenched knee, which may keep him on the bench for the rest of the year.

The cornerstone of the new city hall of Lemoore, Kings county, costing $35,000, was laid, September 27.
A system of fire mains costing $15,- 000 is being installed.

The annual convention of the California-Nevada Kiwanis district of Kiwanis clubs will be held in Santa Barbara, November 14 and 15.

CAMPBELL HI-Y GETS ACTIVE AGAIN

The Campbell Hy-Y group held an enjoyable feed and reorganization meeting at the Methodist parlors Monday evening.

With Fred Shipp at the piano and Robt. Syer, jr., as yell leader the boys indulged in a gang sing before the eats.

Bob Syer gave a short enthusiastic talk on the co-operation of all the county groups which would greatly aid to the interest and efficiency of each group and individual member.

Fred Shipp stated that several new Hy-Y groups were under way about the county and each group could help along the good cause by helping others.

Dick Worden, county president of the Y, spoke of the opportunities afforded for real service and the development of personal characters.

Mr. W. L. Chandler, general secretary of San Jose Y. M. C. A. told of some of his experiences and showed how the Y helps to clean up communities. It is an organization of, by and for boys, there being today over 59,000 Hy-Y boys in the United States. Over 150 clubs have been formed in California with a membership of more than 2000 high school boys.

The boys plan to hold their reorganization meeting at the Methodist church parlors next Thursday evening when it is hoped that there will be a big turnout of high boys.

CHURCH SOCIETIES HOLD REUNION

Occasionally there is a brighter spot than usual in the meetings of the Congregational Guild and the Methodist Ladies' Aid and that is when organization acts as hostess to the other and Tuesday afternoon witnessed one of these occasions.

The parlors of the Congregational church had been made charmingly cozy by the introduction of a few pieces of home furniture, and the abundant use of the gorgeous gold and red autumn flowers and foliage.

Unfortunately several members of both groups were detained by the Home and School Club Rally Day, but still there was a good gathering and both guests and hostesses enjoyed an afternoon of good fellowship.

Mrs. Gilmore Duncan delighted the company with violin numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Ben King, of San Jose and Mrs. Lillie Shaw read a dissertation of Mr. Dooley's on "Women's Clothes."

A simple game which helped along acquaintanceship, and the serving of a dainty collation completed a pleasant afternoon.

CAMPBELL HY FACULTY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cramer were hosts Friday evening at a very delightful party in honor of the members of the Campbell Hi faculty, and a few other guests.

Very interesting and entertaining games and contests were held in the gymnasium and then the company adjourned to the Cramer home across the way where a most delectable collation was served and music was enjoyed.

In addition to the members of the Campbell faculty, Principal and Mrs. Rae and Miss Stella Leviston, of the Santa Clara Hi; Mrs. Boesch, of San Jose, mother of Miss Claribel Boesch, and the J. E. Weisendanger family, who have entertained the faculty several times, were present.

The initial meeting of high school P. T. A. will convene Tuesday afternoon at the school.
Important plans are to be discussed and a large attendance is urged.

CONSTITUTION CLUB TOPIC THIS YEAR

The study of the United States constitution and government which the Country Woman's Club will consider this year, was begun Monday with a most interesting discussion of "Our Constitution."

Mrs. L. Saunders was chairman with Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy and Miss Jessie Lewis as assistants, the latter substituting for Mrs.
Mary Lanphear, who is away. As outlined in the program, the subject was considered under three heads, Mrs. Pomeroy introducing the topic with a paper on the place and times at which the constitution was framed. She dwelt briefly upon the preceding "Continental Congress" and then the reasons for calling the Constitutional Convention and its sessions.

Miss Jessie Lewis had the members of the assembly and gave very interesting notes on the type of men and their work in the convention, and the great compromises arrived at, which alone made possible the results obtained.

The document itself was very clearly and concisely explained by Mrs. Saunders, who also drew a most interesting comparison with the English government, contrasting the powers of the executive and legislative branches of the two countries. She closed with a few words regarding Bryce's "American Commonwealth" and a few questions from the work, as these books will be used quite extensively by the club thruout the year.

Mrs. Ellen R. Smith read several verses from Baynard Taylor's poem written in commemoration of the Centennial held in Philadelphia in 1875.

Three new names were added to the roll of members.

As an entertainment feature Mrs. Shadle sang two beautiful solos, accompanied by Mrs.
Robson.

COUNTY GROCERS AT INDOOR PICNIC

The Retail Grocers' Association of Santa Clara County held their annual indoor picnic at the San Jose Commercial Club rooms last evening and judging by the attendance and enthusiasm it was one grand success. About 300 grocers and their wives sat at a progressive dinner service arranged by Mrs. Reardon, of Raymond & Reardon, of Oakland, who gave a comprehensive discussion on the various items on the menu. Most of the menu will be Santa Clara county products.
Mr. A. F. Marsh, of Mountain View, as toastmaster of the evening gave a general outline of the progress of the Santa Clara County association.

Mr. Jas. Macdonough, of San Francisco, past president of California Development Bureau was the principal speaker of the evening with "The Value of Co-operation and Organization" as his theme.

Mr. Jewel Sloss of the Standard Biscuit Co., spoke on "Creating Demand." Mr. A. M. Blount, director of the state association spoke of the state work and its steady growth.

Secretary Frank Connolly, of the association, gave a few minutes talk on the Grocer's Advocate," the publicity organ of the state. Other short talks were given by wholesale house representatives. What with the fine orchestra, community sing and educational film of the sugar production by California & Hawaiian Refining Co. a most enjoyable and profitable evening came to a close with an informal dance. That was some picnic.

Those attending from Campbell were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lea, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, J. B.
Strong and J. E. Gamo.

Two notable features of the construction work now in progress in the Merced district are the building of a storage reservoir at Exchequer on the Merced river, which will amply provide water for the entire 182,000 acres in the district for spring, summer and fall irrigation, and the installation of a hydro-electric power generating plant to make use of the stored water in addition to its use for irrigation.

The California Taxation Improvement association, an organization formed to obtain the passage of Amendment No. 9 on the November ballot, to force the listing of foreign securities held in the state and tax them, has opened quarters in San Francisco. It is estimated that some $2,000,000,000 worth of such securities are held here. The headquarters of the organization are in Los Angeles.

COOLIDGE

The leadership of Calvin Coolidge is not only political; it is moral and spiritual. Not since Lincoln has there been a leader comparable to him. It is likely that in the history of the nation there will be none that will measure up to him in force of character, in intellectual integrity and capacity and in every spiritual quality.

In all his utterances he displays the soul of him naked to his countrymen. He is the incarnate spirit of sincerity, the personification of utter frankness. The conception of a falsehood is impossible to him.

In his Labor Day address he said: "I have an abiding faith in the American people." He also has an abiding faith in his God—the God of his fathers. He trusts to a wisdom that is greater than any human conception of wisdom and from this fountain source, he revives direction. He says: "It is faith that lifts us above ourselves and gives us strength that is not our own."

His philosophy is written in homely terms. There is no attempt of fine writing, no didactic utterances couched in high-sounding periods, no sounding brass and tinkling cymbals; yet his style is of a purity that has never been surpassed. It is all substance, substance and more substance.

He deals with the homely virtues; he extols the Ten Commandments. Yet it is done with such simplicity, such lack of affection, that it never loses interest nor ceases to be impressive. He may touch on a variety of subjects; yet he is always concise. He may repeat the same thought and present it in another dress; yet he is never long-winded.

He points to the really great satisfactions of life which are derived neither from the pride of possessions nor the indolence of wealth, and he asserts that "there is no reason to condemn our institutions as old-fashioned or consider them as failures because they do not immediately give us all great place and great riches."

He is an unanswerable argument put into words that none can fail to understand. If position and wealth were the alpha and omega of our existence, indispensable to success and happiness, all but a few would be doomed to failure and disappointment. But this he strenuously denies. "It must be," he says, "that there is plenty of satisfaction and happiness to go around if we will put ourselves in an attitude to accept it."

What is success? Is it the product of selfishness? No! "If we think only of ourselves we can reap nothing but failure," says Calvin Coolidge. Was ever a great truth more aptly expressed?

And having expounded a great cause or accepted a great office, we must be loyal to those who have trusted us. We must be honest with ourselves and with them; and then he defines honesty—"Honesty is loyalty to truth." Five words embodying the essence of all morality.

One cannot be a great preacher or teacher without having a great love for one's fellowmen. Calvin Coolidge has this love. His life has been one of continuous service. The welfare of his countrymen is constantly in his mind.

"I want to see our institutions more and more humane." That does not sound like a reactionary; neither has it the false ring of the demagogue.

"I want to see jobs hunting for men rather than men hunting for jobs." To that end he uses every effort, and they are efforts that produce results.

"I want every individual, no matter how humble, to know that over him is the protection of our law." Here is the sum and substance of the great ideal of American Government—equality before the law. Rich and poor, powerful and humble—they must all be treated alike. None shall have an advantage over the other.

"I want to increase the moral and spiritual well-being of our country." These are not words that fall easily from the mouth-piece of predatory wealth. They are more like the voice of one crying in the wilderness.

But after all is said and done, we have no right to be discouraged, for the President reminds us that "we live in an ordered universe, ruled by the law of the guiding hand of Providence."

"Not to have faith in our fellow men is not to have faith in ourselves. It is to deny our mutual dependence upon one another and upon a Divine Power."

"Whatever may appear to be the temporary power of evil, it is always overcome by the greater permanent power of good."

"Faith in God is the beginning of religion." Thus speaks Calvin Coolidge—the spiritual leader.—Joseph W. Wright in the Country Editor.

A reduction of taxation means an increase in prosperity.

Mystery of Chili Con Carne

CHILI CON CARNE is a name given to several different products. There's Eagle Chili Powder that some folks call Chili Con Carne. There's a mixture of meat and beans that should properly be called Chili Con Carne Con Frijoles. But true Chili Con Carne is different.

Ingram's Condensed American Chili Con Carne was demonstrated in Blaine's Store recently. During this demonstration Mr. Ingram said, "Real Chili Con Carne is chili with meat only—that is, con means with, and carne means meat. To people who haven't used the true article, Chili Con Carne is a revelation. Men, women and children are captivated by it."

He didn't exaggerate. Most customers who tried Ingram's Chili Con Carne, either by itself or as a flavoring for macaroni, rice or beans, have hurried back for more. The 18c can is most in demand, but the 50c size has won favor, too. It's a new delight that you must not miss.

Girl Injured by Auto

The little Schlenker girl on her way to school last week was struck by an auto driven by Mr. Olson and quite seriously injured. The girl was taken by the driver to Dr. Merrill's office and later removed to the hospital where examination disclosed an internal rupture. A special nurse is in constant attendance and the little patient is in a very critical condition.

Papal Ukase Cuts Attendance
Paris.—The papal ukase against immodesty in feminine dress is interpreted at Bologna in so drastic a manner that attendance at the local churches is said to have fallen off 50 per cent. Priests, assisted by boy scouts and members of the Virgin Mary society, mount guard at the doors of Bologna cathedral before the 11 o'clock fashionable mass, and compel all women entering to undergo close scrutiny. Several prominent women of the city have thus been excluded from worship.

"Gob" a Human Ostrich Mare Island.—Mare Island doctors operating on Donovan Baker, a general court-martial prisoner from "84" station prison, found ten nails, a safety pin and a piece of wire in his stomach. The nails had been in the stomach some time, as they showed acid action. The safety pin was open.

Avalanche Burles Troops
Turin.—A detachment of Alpine troops was buried by an avalanche in the Susa valley. Two bodies were recovered.

Carrying $16,000 worth of gold in the tonneau of his automobile with only himself and his wife as guards, H. C. Cutting of Happy Camp, Siskiyou county, arrived in Sacramento with an exhibit for the American Mining Congress convention, consisting of the last five days' output of the Independence mine. One quartz boulder weighing 110 pounds contained more than $5,000 worth of gold.

"Silent" Carson, bandit and prison character, who had not spoken since he was shot in an attempted prison delivery at Folsom in 1919, died of heart disease in the Stockton state hospital. Carson was sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering an Oakland policeman. Following his "talk strike" alienists pronounced him insane and he was removed to the Stockton institution.

The congregation of a church in Montecito, a fashionable Santa Barbara suburb, made up largely of millionaire society people, was thrown into a near panic by the appearance of a huge chimpanzee, an escaped pet, which walked calmly down an aisle and seated itself in a pew filled with worshippers.

Visalia, Dinuba, Porterville and Selma "tossers" have formed the Southern San Joaquin Valley Horse-shoe league and will play a regular schedule of eight weeks, when it will be repeated. Plans are to take in Reedley and Tulare, both of which have strong horse-shoe aggregations.

CAMPBELL FORMS COOLIDGE CLUB

Republican activities are starting with a will throughout the county, and already a number of Coolidge-Dawes Clubs have been organized. Los Gatos, with a membership of several hundred men and women, was the first to form a club, San Jose followed with the first women's organization of the sort in the county. Campbell has a club with more than 50 members and more signing daily; Saratoga's Republicans have organized and are affiliating, for the sake of efficiency, with Los Gatos; Palo Alto has an enthusiastic membership that is growing daily, and Monday evening at a mass meeting of war veterans, a unit of the Republican Association of War Veterans, (a state-wide organization pledged to the Coolidge-Dawes ticket), was formed in San Jose.

George J. Hatfield, director of the association and himself an ex-service man, is working actively for the election of the Coolidge-Dawes ticket. "It is vitally important that all ex-service men and women particularly those who have served their flag, should take an active part in state and national politics," said Mr. Hatfield. "I believe all ex-service men should work for the up-building of the political structure of our government. To the ex-service men and women who are affiliated with the Republican party, I wish to express the opinion that in President Coolidge they have a candidate for president who stands for the best ideals of government, a man who believes in and will uphold the constitution of these United States, for which we, in the service, fought."

JUDGE HOLDS STATE MOTOR ACT INVALID

FRESNO.—Superior Judge J. E. Woolley last week held the State Motor Transportation Franchise Act passed by the 1923 legislature, to be unconstitutional when he gave judgment for the Bacon Service Corporation against Fred C. Huss, captain of the Fresno county traffic squad, in the first court test of the law.

"In my opinion the act is palpably unconstitutional by reason of the numerous amendments excluding various classes of commercial motor transportation," asserted Judge Woolley, who also announced that his findings of fact and conclusions of law would be filed within two or three days. "I suppose these amendments were voted because of big and aggressive lobbies maintained by these bodies at Sacramento. The original bill levying a tax on all who use the highways for gain would probably have withstood an attack on its constitutionality."

The law imposed a tax of four per cent on the gross business of stage and motor truck companies, but excluded from its operation taxicabs, sightseeing busses, and auto truck transfer companies.

Fashion's Vogue Brings the Ostrich Back Again

Ostrich has come back into fashion. Not only millinery reflects the revival of the ostrich vogue, but costuming throughout is lavishly garnished with ostrich fringe, tassels and other novelty effects. As a consequence of this favor for ostrich the old-fashioned ostrich bon is now new-fashioned.

Portrait effects through ostrich placements are part of the charm in millinery this season. The little roll brimmed model in the picture says summer in its straw facing, while it bespeaks autumn in its black silk plush crown; therefore it is an ideal midseason type.

FASHIONS HAVE CHANGED IN VARIOUS WAYS

Here's a picture that tells a complete story in itself. The autocar of 1899 was certainly a snappy thing, featured by the rope tires that were guaranteed not to suffer from puncture. Short wheel base was another bright idea while the motive power was hidden under the seat.

RESCUE THE CHILDREN

Where do they come from? Who are these, Coming by hundreds, by dozens, by twos and threes? Feet bare, unkempt hair, scantily clad, Checks sunken, hollowed-eyed, untimely sad. Skeletons walking, but laboring on, From early morn till night draws on In this world they are, they know not why Enjoying little of earth or sun or sky.

In mine or factory, quarry or mill, For a bare pittance, just to fill The tills of their masters. Human slaves, Rushing from cradles, to early graves. Sacrificed on the altar of civilized greed, Giving themselves, to satiate others need. Victims of a system that's cruel and cold, Coining bodies and souls of children into gold.

Bringing ease, enjoyment and pleasure to some, But only sacrifice, suffering, death, to the children come. Born in the image of God overhead, Why then all this cruelty? Is God dead? What is the answer to their stifled cry, O! why are we thus driven? Why, O, why? Where is he, who with sad face and mild, Took into his arms, and blest the child?

Where is Washington, who sword in hand, Banished despotism from this western land? Where is Lincoln, whose pen set free Millions of humans from black slavery? And John Brown with face grown mild, On his way to death, kissing the negro's child? Come Washington, if need be with sword again, And, Lincoln, come too, with your life giving pen.

And come, John Brown, as your soul marches on, Kiss wrecked childhood into a happier dawn. O, Savior of children, with meek face and mild, Take now to thy bosom this down-trodden child, Restore again to it that image of love, Its richest heritage from the Father above. Let's all in our might rise, this beast put down, With God's help, with Washington, Lincoln and Brown, Jas. Fablinger.

INCOME TAX LOWER

The direct effect in lowered taxes brought about by the Coolidge economy program has been felt recently by every payer of an income tax. Despite the fact that the public debt has been reduced more than $3,000,000, and the annual cost of running the Federal government cut down more than $2,000,000,000, yet it was possible, through enforcement of the strictest governmental economy, to lift some of the load of Federal taxation from the shoulders of the average man, who pays the bulk of the income tax.

The tax on incomes has been cut, this year, 25 per cent. The difference between the income tax law of 1921, when the Republicans came into power, and the income tax law of today, is an outstanding example of the results of Republican economy, and bringing order out of the financial chaos facing the nation when the Republicans took the helm of the ship of state in 1921.

A married man, having no children, enjoying an income of $5,000 in 1921, paid an income tax of $100 a year. The law enacted this year, and affecting incomes earned last year, reduces this tax to $75. Next year, when this same man pays his taxes, he will have to pay only $50.

It is hard for a demagogue to convince any man that he has not received direct benefits from Republican economy in the face of such facts as these.

W. C. T. U.

On October 1st, the union met with Mrs. Farley. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Kennedy as usual. Prayer by Mrs. Eckles and favorite scripture verses given by those present.

The annual report by the secretary showed considerable work accomplished during the past year. Law enforcement, special prayer meetings, two "Mothers' Meetings," one conference held by a state leader; two meetings held especially for young people, child welfare interests being the theme of these meetings; one with the state superintendent as speaker. Several other state workers aided at different times. Excellent work has been done along the line of Flower Mission, where thirty boxes were filled with goodies sent soldiers at Fort McDowell at Christmas and a goodly amount of delicacies sent the ex-soldiers at Letterman hospital in San Francisco and Base hospital at Palo Alto at Thanksgiving and at Easter. The superintendent of Anti-narcotic work reported a large number of blotters given school children. The blotters contained imprints showing the harmful effects of narcotics. Several letters in the interest of the department of legislation and petition had been sent law-makers. The Press superintendent reported as having furnished temperance copy for three different papers to the extent of nearly five columns, 125 lines in each column.

Under new business a baby clinic was given into the hands of Mrs. Farr as superintendent of Mothers' Meetings, date and place to be announced later. Prize poster to students in the art department of Campbell High School and Prize Essays on the Grammar School may, it is hoped, elicit increased interest in right living among the students. Alternates to the state convention at Sacramento on October 20-24, were Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Parkhill, Mrs. Farr.

Magnetic Coil Controls

Air Supply for Motors

Automatic control of the air that should be mixed with fuel to produce maximum efficiency for the automobile motor is achieved by an ingenious magnetic coil device attached to the generator of the car, and containing an air intake that leads through a pipe to the intake manifold. The air intake is regulated by a valve attached to the magnet armature that works against an adjustable spring.

Magnetic Coil, Connected With Generator and Manifold, Controls Air Supply.

When the engine speeds up, the generator increases the power of the magnet, opens the valve, and admits more air into the intake. Similarly the valve closes as the motor slows down. This apparatus, it is claimed, will increase gasoline mileage from 30 to 90 per cent.—Popular Science Monthly.

California Cattle Win Stakes

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., Oct. 6.—California cattle, owned by H. O. Harrison, of San Francisco, swept the field of practically all awards among the Aberdeen-Angus breed at the Oklahoma Free State Fair closing today. The grand championship was given to Blackcap Glenn 2nd, a three-year-old bull who won like honors at this season's Kentucky State Fair and the Tennessee Tri-State Fair. Miss Burgess 5th was named grand champion female, while Glencarnock Rovert and Blackcap Bess Glencarnock annexed the junior bull championship and junior female championship, respectively. The progeny of Harrison's great bull, Blackcap Revolution, including the latter two animals, were also given first prize for get of sire.

The secretary was instructed to write Dr. Bearby inviting her to attend the next meeting and present her department, that of Medical Temperance.

During the devotionals at the next meeting there will be held a memorial service, at which time loving tributes will be paid deceased members who have been promoted to higher service during the past year.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Whitman, 98 Central Ave., Campbell. Visitors are most welcome. Time Wednesday, October 15, at 2:0 p. m.
